low State Appropriation for Jaunt to 'Frisco Was Spent May Now Be Laid Bare.

Application for a peremptory writ of nandamus to compel State Comptroller Eugene M Travis to sudit the accounts of the New York State Panama-Pacific Exposition Commission, has been granted by Judge Hastrouck at Kingston, according to word received here to-day by Henry Brigham of counsel for Frederick W. Hinrichs of the Toung Men's Republican Club of Brooklyn, the applicant.

The application was made for the purpose of bringing to public light the manner in which the State appropriation was spent that was allotted to the committee headed by Gov. Whitman which went to Man Francisco to attend the ceremonies of the ofsce to attend the ceremonies of the unveiling of the New York State Building. The trip, in some quarters, has been described as a "junket." The total State expenditure including the New York building was $66,000. There was an issue raised as to whether the State Comptroiter had power to set in the matter. The mandamus makes it obligatory on him to make the audit.

The application asked for three specific things in relation to the expenditures of the State money by Governor Whitman and the commission: First, that the comptroller be declared to have the right to determine whether the expenditures were excessive and extravagant; second, if so, to sue individuals for recovery; third, for the Comptroller to require specific details of accounts rendered. Until the full text of the court's decision is received the Comptroiler does not know whether he has been given authority for a pre-audit, that is to determine whether the expenditures were excessive, or merely a subsequent audit of requiring specifications and details of expense bills that were rendered in lump sum.

Announcement was made by the that were rendered in lump sum.
